AKURE— Governor Olusegun Mimiko of Ondo State has said his government is using the mega school projects in the state to narrow the gap between the rich and the poor in the society in a new form of social re-engineering.

Mimiko gave the assurance after inspecting the completed Caring Heart Mega Primary School, Igbodigo, Okitipupa now ready for use.

He said his administration’s idea of integration to make the children of the down trodden better placed for competition with the affluent in the society will be pursued without hindrance.

He said: “We are creating a social integration to ensure that the children of the poor can rub shoulders with the children of the rich by choice in the society. Nothing but the best is good for us in Ondo State.”

We told our people that what we are going to put on ground will be world-class for the future of our state and the future of Nigeria.

“We believe that for us to re-engineer education and reposition it, we must provide the best infrastructural facilities of global standard. We are happy that we dreamt about this and God has helped us to realise it”
